Edentulous patients want to regain an active lifestyle. But, often, the problems they face are ill-fitting dentures causing sores and difficulty in chewing and eating. This course is designed to show how you can use removable prostheses to deliver a variety of levels of function to your patients . . . from fully soft tissue-borne to completely implant-borne. We will explore overdenture designs that will deliver a high level of function at lower costs. You will learn how to:

- Meet the requirements for immediate treatment
- Decrease total treatment time
- Simplify technical procedures
- Lower patient costs with appliances that can feel like fixed solutions
- Offer chair-side techniques
